

13 August 1934.

Dear Yates,

I think you know Neyman, and I am writing for him, as he wants to have a good opportunity of being shown what is of statistical and experimental interest at Rothamsted. If you are there now, he would be glad to spend a day during the next week seeing the station, and bringing with him a lady assistant who is just now over from Poland. This lady seems to be a good mathematician and will probably be applying in a year or two to put in time as a voluntary worker.

Yours sincerely,