My dear Ron,

Thanks for the note on the probability integral of Behrens' distribution.

My own feeling is that there is no need to publish the tables themselves with the paper since they will be appearing at about the same time in the new edition of "Statistical Tables". On the other hand, I think it would be a good plan to include a note on the way they were computed (with, of course, a reference to the place in which they can be found). I enclose such a note prepared by Healy which I hope you will think suitable.

I think the Statistical Society's journal would be a good medium for publication.

Yours,

Professor Sir Ronald Fisher
