CRIPPS'S CORNER,

FOREST ROW,

SUSSEX.

Dear Fisher.

Very likely you are right in your decision about Pearson, but I am glad to have written, because it has started the hare. I think something might be done. It reminds me, however, how he twice pitched into me in public and printed lectures about the nature of nature numbers, & here gave a hint that he began to suspect an error on his own part. These numbers have not been mentioned lately, I think!

I may tell you privately that my niece ought to have no difficulty

Whatever about money, and I am nearly sure that won't stand in her way if once convinced. She is, however, rather busy - very busy - with a busy husband, 6 growing children, one a little - - - - - , and a big house, bigger than she likes. Do you know her present address? It is Boswells, Wendover. Bucks.

Her father, my brother Horace, only thought of making good and useful instruments. Honesty is the rule, and the result is that the little money I put into that business pays me far the highest interest I ever have got!
Boswell's father is Sir Thomas, a most successful doctor.

They have plenty of ground at Boswells, I believe. No answer

Yours

J. Dawson
