CRIPPS'S CORNER,
FOREST ROW, SUSSEX.

Dear Fisher.

Thank you for letting me see Ford's letter, which I return. As a fact I wrote to him yesterday. Perhaps I shall write a p.s. to him to say "no hurry". If he does tackle the job, I think he will do it well.

I have glanced at Austin Freeman in our Review, but must read it more carefully. At present I hold to my view that such ventures are of little use, and some harm in taking attention off the better lines of advance.

The article on Homogamy in Fertility is interesting. I see some ways in which it could arise. I see also a prize is to be given to an essay on Family Allowance, a scheme I had not heard of. I wonder what will be the result.

Yours sincerely

L. Darwin.
