

Jan 9th. 1931

CRIPPS'S CORNER,
FOREST ROW,
SUSSEX.

Dear Fisher,

I began the enclosed intending it for a letter to nature. Do you think it is too long? If so would it do for our review? I have not seen it since it was copied.
I do not care if it is published or not and I would rather it were not published if you distinctly disapprove of the way in which I treat the 17 percent business. I shall be much obliged for any ^{or enclosed} ~~sent~~ criticisms. I think I am right in saying that he does not quote Punnet quite accurately. Is my 30 percent in three generations alright?

Yours sincerely
Alfred Darwin

x which please return.

P.S.

It would be interesting to know how Cutler, as a biologist, reacts to what I say. Will you show it to him if you get a convenient chance.