CRIPPS'S CORNER,

FOREST ROW,

SUBSEX.

My dear Fisher

Just a line to thank you for your kind note about broadcasting. My advice to those who have to perform - dependent on their solitary experience - would be, don't be in a funk, don't speak loud, and, above all, pronounce all consonants clearly.

I have just been looking at the American Engineer for Nov. an article by Caroline Robinson throws some doubts on the statistics of the differential birth rate. I did not hear Carr-Samuelson, I am sorry to say, who is mentioned in their article.

Very likely all statistics up to date will require some modification, but I doubt if they will upset our broad conclusions. If you ever come across proofs of important changes in what we ought to think, please tell me where to look.

I mean we have not got our Census questions, but are going to get the registration questions — not that I am by any means sure.

Don't trouble to answer

Yours sincerely

Leonard Darwin
