

Oct. 13. 30

CRIPPO'S CORNER,
FOREST ROW,
SUSSEX.

Dear Fisher

Thanks for Durrant's theory, which I shall read with interest.

As to the rather dismal last sentence in your letter, I thought you gave the right lead in the right tone at the meeting. As to the Society generally, I am afraid any propaganda is always a difficult and generally an unpleasant job, if any moral questions are involved.
That is why it is so generally

Shocked. We must do our best, and hope for the best, without expecting much comfort out of the job. You will say that my last sentence is even more dismal than yours!

Yours sincerely
J Darwin

My last letter about your Committee in which in my view was really dictated by a fear that I had said the wrong thing to you in conversation