

I do not kick too hard at very good adaptation, in the sense of making the best use of the available material, provided that new mutations are admitted to appear occasionally from internal causes; though I am surprised you think it as rapid as you do show many uncorrelated questions are concerned. But I shall drive you mad on your holiday

L.D. [19 August 1927]
J.H.C.