Dear Fisher

I am going to trouble you with a question, which is hard on a busy man like you. I have written enclosed with the idea that I might send it to the Eugenics Review. I will prejudice you in its favour by saying that it arose out of unfavourable thoughts about "Euteleogenesis", "ectogenesis", & to a less extent, "Eugenics colonies". A colony of geniuses would, I believe, come to grief very quickly - though you may not agree. I am not stating my underlying thoughts, because I don't want to get into a controversy in my old age. Now will you kindly do two things. (1) File up the blank on page 1. I guess the number is between 10 & 30. (2) Let me know if you agree generally and think this is

- or is not - a seed worth sowing. If you are of opinion that it is generally unsound, why say so, which will save me some future trouble!

Yours sincerely

Samuel Darwin
