CRIPPS'S CORNER,

FOREST ROW,

SUSSEX.

My dear Fisher.

Thank you for the two chapters safely come to hand. I hope to tackle them before long. For the moment I am reading a very difficult book by Pigeon, the thesis being that a lot more money ought to be transferred from the well-to-do to the poor - not altogether comfortable reading for the well-to-do!

I shall be proud to have both you, dedicated to me, and it will greatly enhance the pleasure with which I shall see it in print. I am not the least afraid of being tarnished with the same brush as Gounsey, especially as a dedication never implies complete agreement. I am only afraid that you will imply that I have been of more use to you than has really been the case.

I hope you will find the Key in the Origin ^{useful}. I think it will be, as it will indicate the only passages which need be referred to when making the comparison.

Yours sincerely,

Leland Dawson
