

July 29. 27

CRIPPS'S CORNER,
FOREST ROW,

SUSSEX.

My dear Fisher -

I am sorry to hear of your bad headache, and trust it is a passing phase.

I have written to Vizcaya, including your suggestions. I hope it will hit him. I have not posted it yet, as I don't want it to reach his office whilst he is away. I am finding out his movements.

I return certain documents, which you may like to keep.

On another matter, I suppose you read MacBrule's last on Kansuwa. It made me long to have a go at him, it seems so full of impossibilities.

Not that I should have the slightest hope of influencing him.
I have just been looking at a book by Moore on Evolution & religion - I forgot its title - which made me rather angry. He is so unfair on my father and his <sup>views</sup>
~~about~~ about Lamarc'e. He says my father never gave any credit to Lamarc'e. I know of nothing published by my father which is not expressive of appreciation of Lamarc'e as a naturalist. If you ever come across a published paper, let me know. I mean not a letter never meant for publication. There were in truth merely letting off steam to a few intimate friends, who knew well how to discount them. I don't know why I write at this, except to blow off steam myself.

Yours hastily

L. Darrow.

Ms. A. 1. 1 v. 1 p. 10