CRIPPS'S CORNER,
FOREST ROW,

SUSSEX.

Dear Fisher.

I think it is no use searching for the Wedderburn letter. My father used to put a letter, after being noted and read, on a hooked spike. The note was put in some labelled shelf. The spit when full was put in a cupboard under the stairs, and when that got too full, the letters were burnt to make room for more! We protested, but my father could not conceive that his correspondence would be of value! But anyhow is my memory. I return the notes, in case of their being of any use to you. And I shall remember the name of Wedderburn in case of a miracle occurring.

Congratulations on the Award of Engineers. You are right to keep it up to a high standard, though in truth it is so high as to be clear over the top of my head!

This letter may be delayed, as I am getting the information checked by another member of the family.

Yours sincerely

Leonard Dawson
