CRIPPS'S CORNER,
FOREST ROW,
SUSSEX.

My dear Fisher,

Hereunto the chapters which you kindly said you would read for me.
What I hope you will kindly do is to see if there are any statistical headings in it. If you have anything to say perhaps you will put a pencil number in the margin and thus refer to any observations you have to make.
Of course I should also be glad to hear any personal remarks you feel disposed to make.

I feel rather disappointed with this production because I set out with high hopes that I should be able to lay down some general laws about progression. As it is it is all rather vague talk.

Yours sincerely
L. Darwin
