Major L. Darwin, Sc.D.,
Cripps's Corner,
Forest Row,
Sussex.

Dear Major Darwin:

At the meeting of the Genetical Society recently at Down House, I was delighted, as indeed we all were, to hear your letter read by the President. You will be interested I think by Haldane's remarks at the end of the meeting, to the effect that your father knew so many more facts relevant to evolutionary theory than any of us did, that we should hesitate to think that anything we knew disposed of his views.

The day was very hot and fine and the meeting well attended. I think we all enjoyed the opportunity of visiting the historic spot.

Yours sincerely,
