CRIPPS'S CORNER,
FOREST ROW,
SUSSEX.

Dear Fisher.

I am glad you have taken my letter in the way I intended it. It matters little if I am wrong in my practical policy, as I shall make no more. Something I heard after I had written my last letter to you ^{you would think,} made me fear that I was hinting at things which were not and could not have been in my mind. I shall never hint to you, but speak out. The action of some of

The biologist has always been a puzzle to me. Why did Seward leave us? I think merely because he could not give time to make up his mind. Then I gathered that Bateson & Punnett refused to join, because they thought - that touching Eugenic pitch would defile and injure the genetic purity - of - motive. But I don't know. The Genetic Society refused to join the International Eugenic Movement - on the same ground nominaly. I wish we could pull together better. Of course Eugenicists - make mistakes - I know I do

Yours hardly,
