

23rd. March 1949.

My dear Henry,

I did not answer your question about publication of our note on Sewall Wright, hoping that perhaps there would be some reaction from Mayr in reasonable time. As there may not be, I should certainly say it ought to go in to Heredity with such expansions as you may think desirable in the light of Mayr's attitude. If you felt like it, in fact, I should not hesitate to quote extensively from Sewall Wright wherever he or his friends might be inclined to challenge our interpretation of his views.

However, there is no hurry, and I hope you will not feel in any way rushed about it.

Yours sincerely,
