

3rd May, 1958.

My dear Henry,

I believe I have attended to both the points you mention in the fair copy which has been made. I suppose the Maniola mistake was a matter of miscopying. Did anyone tell you that D. M. S. Watson was opening the discussion? I wonder if he still believes that natural selection is a myth.

Sincerely yours,