

2.XI.48.

My dear Ron,

How exceedingly kind of you. I will set the data together and send it to you, as you are so very good as to suggest. It is of course magnificent to have you analyze it; and you will know how delighted Dowdsworth will be, as well as I. I will send you the information shortly.

It is most awfully good of you to suggest that I should come to Cambridge. It would certainly be delightful, and a fine opportunity to discuss the data and to talk over all I have in mind here. May I come towards the end of the term or soon after it is over?

The best dates for me would be the week-end of either :-

November 27th

or

December 11th.

If these do not suit, I could suggest other dates. Possibly the later would be the better: (a) it gives you more time and (b)

the earlier is still within our term, and I have Advanced Genetics (lecture and practical) on Saturday mornings. As the Zoologists and Botanists both attend, it would upset the time-table of both Schools if I were to alter it.
Consequently I could not come until after lunch on the 27th November.*

Thank you so much for your kindness,
my dear Ron,

Yours ever,
Henry

However, I could quite well read you that evening.
