My dear Henry,

We are both hoping that you will be able to come this week-end. There is a meeting of the Baconian Society on Saturday - a man called Hillman on camouflage, and I thought we might conveniently dine at the White Hart in St. Albans before the meeting. If you are at all late, therefore, it might be best if you went straight there, instead of to Harpenden, and I will aim at meeting you there about 6.30 if you do not come to Milton Lodge a bit before six.

Yours sincerely,
