Wednesday.
[26 July 1933]

My dear Sister,

Wednesday (2nd) will suit me excellently. I will meet your train at St. Pancras arriving 10:34.
At any rate I will come straight there; so if I have not arrived when you get ~~the~~ it it would mean that my train was late, and if you would kindly wait a moment or two on the platform I should arrive very shortly.

We can discuss everything then we meet. It will be the greatest possible interest to me to see you later. I think I ought to return to Oxford in the afternoon if I am to get my marks in by the time appointed!

Looking forward so much to seeing you.

Yours sincerely,
E. B. Felt
