

28 April 1945

My dear Taylor,

Many thanks for sending me the notice from the University Reporter, and extracts from the Statutes. I am sending in formal application at once.

About Tooting Bee, I forget the Pole or Czech concerned (unless you have in mind Korenchevsky). In my last letter I hunted out the name of the Medical Superintendent. At the time I enquired everyone seemed very amiable about giving the blood-grouping facilities, but of course since then it is quite possible that someone has thrown a spanner into the works.

Speaking for myself, I should like to lunch at the Dorothy or some suitable café, though of course most others might find it more convenient to bring sandwiches. I take it however that I could do so without there being any formal arrangement. Do what you and Mather think best.

Yours sincerely,
